 Kun Shan University, Taiwan

2012 International Conference on Information, Communication and Engineering (ICICE 2012) will be held in Fuzhou, China on December 15-20, 2012 and will provide a unified communication platform for researchers in a wide area of topics from information technology, communication science, applied mathematics, computer science, advanced material science, engineering and other related fields. Professionals from industry, academia and government are encouraged to discourse on research and development, professional practice, business and management in the information, communication and engineering fields are welcome to participate in the ICICE 2012. This conference enables interdisciplinary collaboration between science and engineering technologists in the academic and industrial fields as well as networking internationally. During the conference, there will be substantial time for presentation and discussion. Attendees will find various activities useful in bringing together a diverse group of engineers and technologists from across disciplines for the generation of new ideas, collaboration potential and business opportunities. All accepted papers will be published in The International Journal of Advanced Science Letters (ISSN: 1936-6612, indexed by SCIE, I/F 1.253) (about 400 papers) and Applied Mathematics and Information Science (ISSN: 1935-0090, indexed by SCIE, I/F 0.642) (about 200 papers).

Fuzhou is the capital and one of the largest cities in Fujian Province, People's Republic of China. Fuzhou is located in the northeast coast of Fujian province, opposite to North Taiwan, and connects jointly northwards with Ningde and Nanping, southwards with Quanzhou and Putian, westwards with Sanming respectively. Fuzhou is considered to constitute the East of Fujian linguistic and cultural area. The city is also referred to as Rongcheng which means "city of banyan trees". Fuzhou cuisine is one of the four traditional cooking styles of Fujian cuisine, which in turn is of the eight Chinese regional cuisines. Dishes are light but flavorful, with particular emphasis on umami taste, known in Chinese cooking as "xiānwèi", as well as retaining the original flavor of the main ingredients instead of masking them. Bodiless lacquerwares, paper umbrella and horn combs are the "Three Treasures" of Fuzhou traditional arts. In addition, bodiless lacquerwares, cork pictures and Shoushan stone sculptures are called "Three Super-excellences" of Fuzhou.

Tourist attractions: (1) Sanfang Qixiang (三坊七巷) "Three Lanes and Seven Alleys" (A cluster of ancient residential buildings dating from the late Jin Dynasty.) (2) West Lake (福州西湖) (An artificial landscape-style lake built in 282 AD.) (3) Lin Zexu Memorial Hall(林则徐纪念馆) (4) Hualin Temple (华林寺) (Built in 964 AD, Song Dynasty) (5) Yongquan Temple (涌泉寺) (Founded in 915 AD, and located on the top of Mount Gu.) and more .
